LOG LINE

He was a top CIA agent. Now he's a stay at home dad. She's at the FBI tackling her biggest case yet. Can they balance espionage, family, Florida, and...his addiction to dumpster diving?

 ANIMATED MUSICAL COMEDY

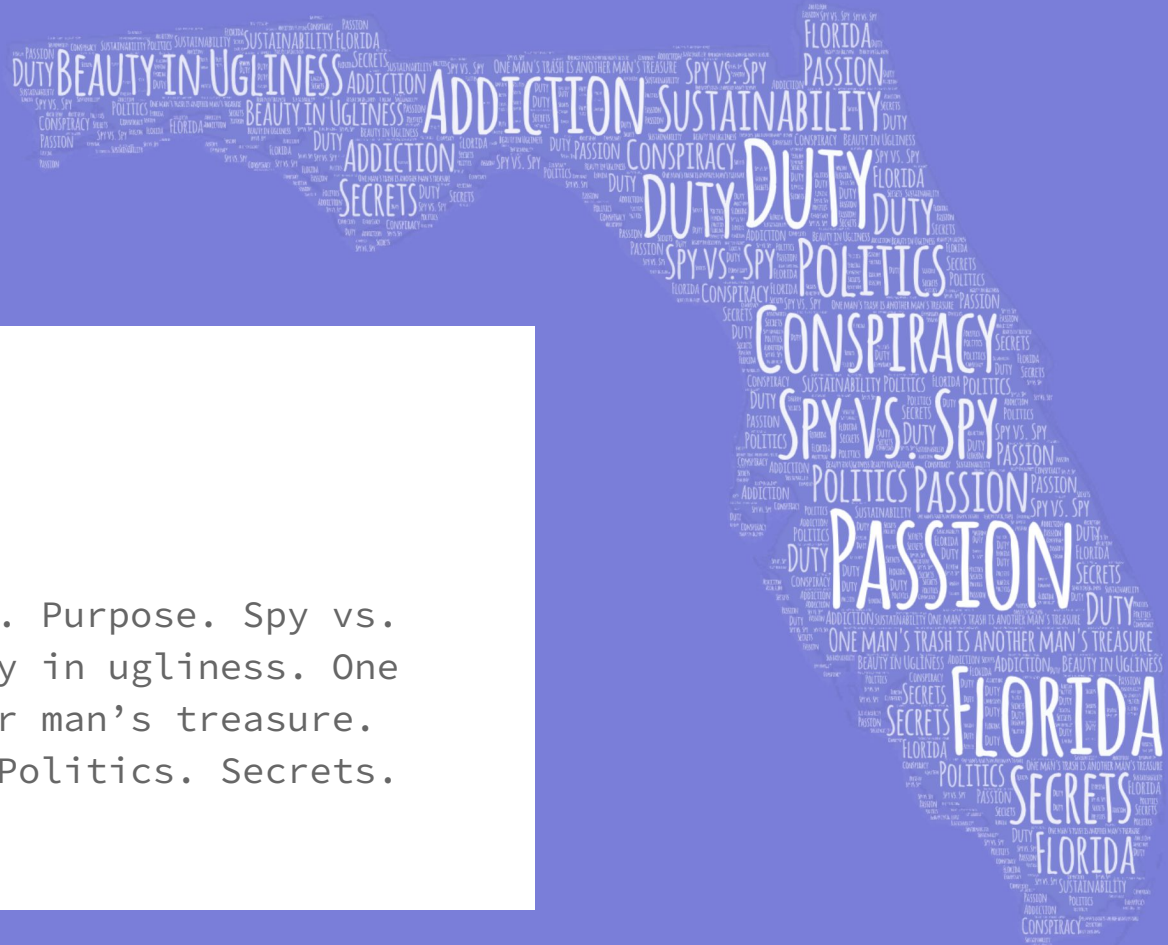

SETTING

Palm Beach County, Florida,
current day. The dumpster outside of Publix. The FBI field office. Ron Desantis
Elementary School,
Mar-a-Lago...and everywhere else there's trash!

THEMES

Passion. Duty. Family. Purpose. Spy vs. Spy. Addiction. Beauty in ugliness. One man's trash is another man's treasure. Conspiracy. Florida. Politics. Secrets.

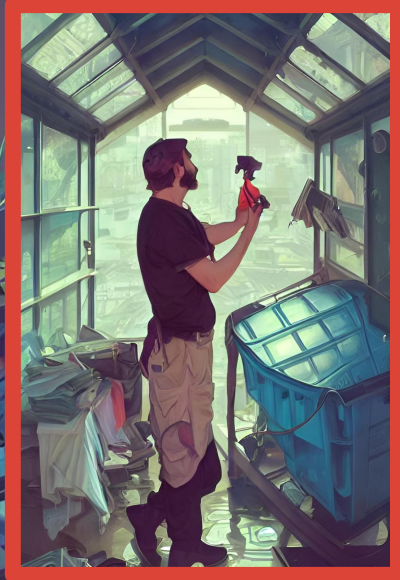

MAIN

CHARACTERS

DAN

A freegan former CIA agent (in the mold of James Bond) who misses the thrill of the hunt and now dumpster dives to feel alive.

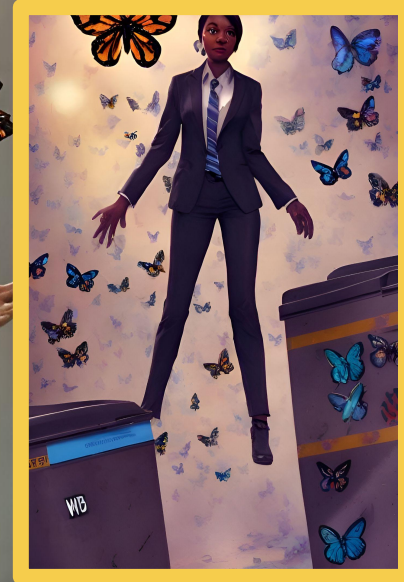

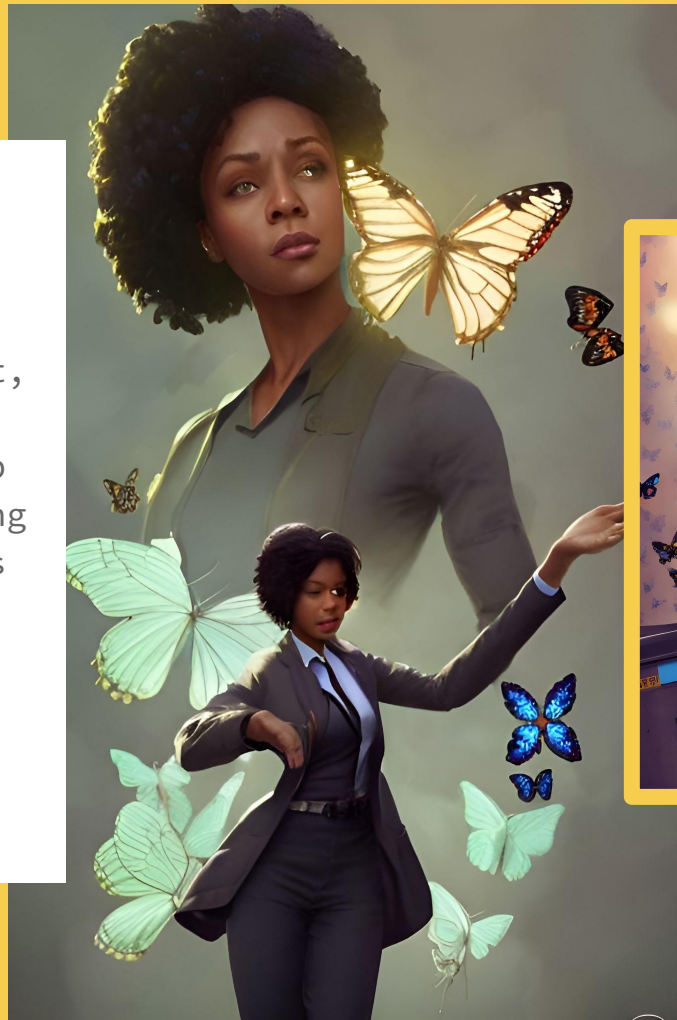

Can Dan be the man his family needs, and resist the siren call of the dumpster?

COURTNEY

Wife, mother, FBI special agent, avid painter of butterflies, who's finally worked her way up to take on the big case: raiding Mar-a-Lago. But office politics and her...unique...family threaten everything she's fought for.

Can she settle her family in a new place...and crack the case?

DUSTY

Precocious (and impressionable) 8 year-old son with the drive of his mother and the free spirit of his father. He's starting over at a new school with a new obsession each week...starting with communism.

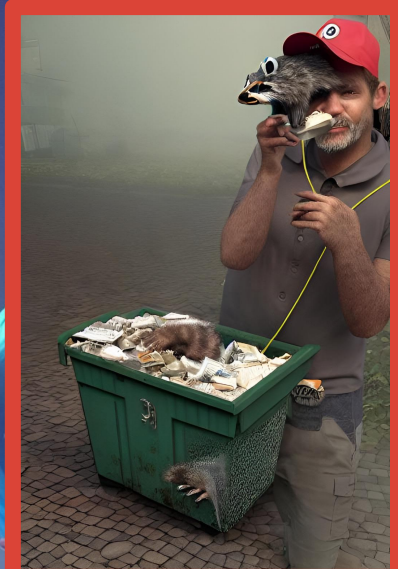

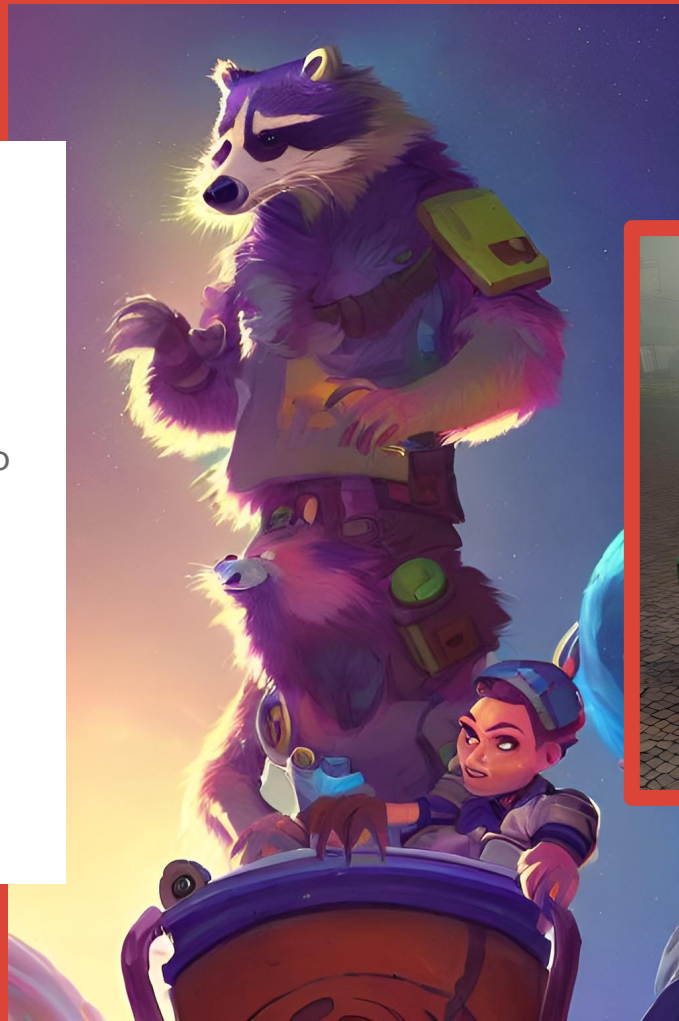

Can Dusty find himself...in Florida of all places?!

DUMPY

A magical talking raccoon who introduces Dan to the world of trash.

Is he real, or just in Dan's imagination?

JAMIE

Vapid, vaping, nosey neighbor, and suspiciously into Dan.

Could there be more to her than meets the eye?

RADISSON HAWTHORNE

Catty, gay, mysteriously wheelchair-bound FBI field office director.

How did he get...in any of these positions?!

THIS SEASON
ON DUMPSTER
DIVING DADDY

Dan struggles against his addiction to dumpster diving until Dumpy the raccoon introduces him to the wonderful secret underground of trash.

A world run by the mob, talking vermin, evil supermarket moguls and Republicans—where corruption goes all the way to the bottom of the bin.

Hijinks ensue until Dan, taking greater and greater risks, finds himself in the golden dumpster behind Mar-a-Lago...stumbling upon exactly the secret documents Courtney is trying to recover.

As Courtney tries to hold the family together and fight the absurd internal politics of the Palm Beach FBI office she gets closer and closer to cracking the big case...not knowing she's circling her own husband. A spy vs. spy, Mr. and Mrs.

Smith-style conflict emerges, where husband and wife find themselves on opposite sides of the same national dumpster fire.

Meanwhile, Dusty fights against the constraints of DeSantis Elementary School, making new friends and enemies, trying on new identities each week—from communism to crypto, improv to CrossFit, competitive voguing, crystals, K-pop, multi-level marketing schemes and more—until he unsuspectingly finds himself caught in the crosshairs of his parents' adventures.

Ultimately, the family discovers the beauty in what America discarded, the power in the forgotten, and that they'd almost thrown away what they needed along.

WHO MADE THIS TRASH?

Sam Baumel, Philip Markle, Julie Rega and Seth Rosenberg are friends who've made some stupid shit together over the years. From political song parodies to music videos about hating paper to an Instagram account promoting "prescription bangs," this may be our most garbage idea yet. We are writers, performers, film-makers, visual artists and even the owner of a sexy Brooklyn comedy theater (o0o0h yeah).
